PLANNING: 2023/2024

This school year's CAS theme is dedicated to sustainability and the worldview concept that changes the world.

Our idea for this year's project is "In a search for a better world". The main question is: are we good enough for our planet? We are searching for a better world for people by sending spaceships to other planets, ruining our only home, Earth, at the same time. We do not need a new planet but we need new species to inhabit our planet. Students are encouraged to create imaginary creatures, creatures that would be kinder to our planet than us. Creatures that will live according to the laws of Nature.

Creatures are being made out of white and/or red clay. Since the ceramic process is slow, students develop patience and perfection. Some of the creatures are drying, while some of them are still being made. After the first firing, they will be decorated with colors or glazes.

At the end of the school year, a composition of all the works will be displayed in the school.
